THE Hongkong Telegraph.

HONGKONG, 21st JULY, 1881.

We are glad to find that the crusade we have initiated against the unjust and scurrilous system of journalism, which has for some time past made the local press of Hongkong a jeer and byword in the Coast ports of China and Japan, has met with universal approbation in almost every town and city in the Far East. For the good wishes we have received from all sides, we are truly grateful to our friends, supporters, and well-wishers. As we have commenced so shall we go on, independent, fearless, honest, and impartial, alike indifferent to the smiles or frowns of great or small, so long as our actions merit and receive public approval. It will be remembered that in our issue of June 21st we called the attention of our readers to a series of articles which appeared in our morning contemporary the Daily Press on the Census Returns. The articles in question were supposed to be an analysis of, and critical commentary on these important Returns, written with the two-fold purpose of abusing and vilifying the Governor, and trying to prove that His Excellency had failed to show that, an increase of population meant an increased prosperity in the Colony. We then stated that our contemporary's special statistical leader-writer had filled the columns of the Press for three separate days with a farrago of unintelligible rubbish, and we are now exceedingly glad to be in a position to place before our constituents extracts from two high class, and thoroughly independent journals, which are honest, impartial, and practical criticisms on the identical Census Returns, which caused our local contemporaries so much tribulation.

The Higo News of the 4th instant, after complimenting the Governor for his clear, succinct, and very interesting description of the development of the colony, goes carefully through the statistical portion of the speech, and concludes a very able article as follows:

"Taking these figures as authentic, as they most undeniably are, it is impossible to question that Hongkong is fulfilling the intention with which the island was originally occupied by the British Government, namely;—solely and exclusively with a view to commercial interests. This favourable result arises in great measure—according to Sir John Hennessy—from the encouragement given wealthy Chinese merchants to settle in the Colony and purchase land there.

Altogether, His Excellency's review of the Hongkong census discloses a remarkable increase of prosperity in that distant dependency of Great Britain. We feel confident that some of the most bitterly opposed measures of the Governor have contributed largely to that development, and also that when the mists rising from present passions and prejudices cease to obscure their mental vision, those who are now the most uncompromising denouncers of Sir John Hennessy's rule will unhesitatingly acknowledge the many and valuable services he has rendered to the "Island of Fragrant Streams."

The Japan Weekly Mail of the 18th ultimo devotes a long leader to the same subject, which is well worthy of reproduction, however our space will only permit us to reprint the following paragraphs:

"The remarks made by Sir John Pope Hennessy when laying the census returns of Hongkong before the Legislative Council on the 3rd instant, are full of interest even for the foreign community in Japan. His Excellency points out that the returns furnish data for answering three questions, viz:—(1) How far the Colony of Hongkong has really fulfilled the objects for which it was established; (2) Whether it is true that there are no trades and manufactures in the Colony, and (3) Whether the large transactions in land that have recently taken place, are speculative or bondage results of healthy commercial progress.

The first question involves a further query:—"With what object was the Colony established?" This Sir John answers on the authority of Mr. Gladstone's utterances made thirty-five years ago, and on that of events which have since then justified those utterances. Hongkong is a purely commercial colony, and the "substantial prosperity" it has achieved in the last four years "can only be equalled in the Australian Colonies." This is in truth a tantalizing contrast to the state of things at present existing in Japan, but Hongkong, too, has had its gloomy days; when the local newspapers lifted up their voices and cried:—"The fate of Hongkong is sealed. What little trade we ever possessed here has been all but extinguished." Now, however, that "little trade" supports a community paying taxes to the amount of a million and a quarter dollars per annum, and includes an item of sixty-eight millions dollars yearly with India. There ought not to be much more doubt as to whether the Island of Victoria is a military or a trading station, neither ought the colonists to grumble any longer about that old bete noir, the contingent to the red-coats.

The question about the trades and manufactures is answered no less satisfactorily. Sir John cites a great number of industries now successfully carried on in Hongkong, amongst them a ketchup manufactory, from which hundreds of barrels are forwarded every year to Messrs. Cross and Blackwell, who bottle the sauce and ship a good deal of it to China! In this context it is interesting to remark, that the trade in Bombay yarn is steadily increasing—from $1,706,913 in 1877 to 5,251,246 in 1880—and that the rapid development of activity in this and other items, promises one day "to outstrip, and perhaps enable the Indian Government to curtail, the trade in opium."

It is, however, to the Governor's remarks with regard to the third question that we particularly desire to direct our readers' attention. The large item of $1,700,000 on the transfer of property, almost entirely for commercial purposes, to the Chinese community during the last eighteen months, is justified by the fact that in four years and four months the native population of the Colony has increased by 20,532. Beyond a doubt Sir John Hennessy's so called "philochinese" policy has had the effect of attracting considerable numbers of Chinese to Hongkong, of inducing them to settle there, and of thus increasing the prosperity not of the native community alone, but also of the foreign for Sir John is plainly of opinion that the two are inseparably connected."

Our northern contemporary, after making reference to the well known mercantile qualities of the Chinese, which make the Chinese Empire a safely progressive country, directs the attention of the Japanese to the great advancement made by the natives in Hongkong in the course of the last few years. Specially referring to Sir John Pope Hennessy's speech on the Census Returns, he says:

"There are lessons here for the Japanese as well as for ourselves. They will do well to study the "commercial qualities that make China a safely progressive country," and we shall do well to remember, that, as in Hongkong, so also here, the prosperity of the country we live in is our prosperity. Native and foreign interests are one.

An immense stride in the right direction will have been taken when this faith is subscribed to by both sides. If the denizens of some supernal region might look down on us with an intelligent eye, they could scarcely fail to marvel at this strange idiosyncrasy that impels us perpetually to proclaim ourselves aliens by speech and action, while our interests and our desires alike dictate a diametrically opposite course. After all these years we have barely succeeded in finding room to stand here and there on the verges of Japanese territory, and have not yet begun to make it plain that western capital and western enterprise are what the country wants far more than either the abolition of extra-territoriality or the revision of the tariff. The Chinese are fast discovering the invigorating effects of foreign contact. They held back at first, but sagacity has with them supplied the place of versatility, and we dare almost predict that, unless Japan speedily becomes more liberal, she will be distanced in the race despite the long start her early activity gave her."

Those of our readers who know anything of statistics, and who are sufficiently interested in the real progress made by this Colony during the past few years, to devote the time necessary for a thorough comparison of the Governor's speech and figures on the Census Returns with the respective criticisms of our local papers, the two above named Japanese journals, and the Shanghai Courier, will have little difficulty in arriving at a satisfactory conclusion, as to the actual value of the utterances of the China Mail and Daily Press, on what may be accurately enough described as the leading question of the present Government.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Weather permitting, the Band of the Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers will play in the Botanic Garden to-morrow, the 22nd instant, at 5.45 p.m. The following programme will be performed under the direction of Band Sergeant Hassard:

March....."Jove".....Guitnor.

Overture....."Light Cavalry".....Suppe.

"Reminiscences of Ireland".....Godfrey.

Valse....."Pomone".....Waldeufel.

Selection....."Bocaccio".....Suppe.

Valse....."Journalisten".....Strauss.

We learn that the Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Company, Limited, have just contracted to build a new paddle steamer for a business firm in Penang. The vessel will be built after the style of the well known American river boats, and her principal dimensions will be as follows:—length between perpendiculars 152 feet; beam, 22 feet; and depth of hold 9 feet. Her Engines, which will be made either at Kowloon or Sam-sui-po, are to be on the Compound Surface Condensing principle, and although the horse power will only be 99, a high rate of speed is confidently anticipated. The vessel is intended to be run between Penang and the neighbouring native states, and we have no doubt whatever that the Dock Company will make as good a job of this new steamer for our friends in the Straits, as they have done of the Lightship for the Singapore Government.

We are informed by the Agents, that the Austro-Hungarian Lloyd's Steam Navigation Co.'s steamer Hungaria left Singapore yesterday morning, the 20th instant, for this port.

Mr. Woodruff, the Commissioner of Customs, at Canton, came down to Hongkong by the Ichang yesterday afternoon, on purpose to meet the new Chinese gunboats, Iota, Kappa, and Lambda, which are expected here in the course of a day or two.

We note from the Shanghai Mercury that the small steamer Heron, which has been under repairs for some time past at the Kowloon Docks, has been purchased by Messrs. Wheelock & Co. The price to be paid for the boat, delivered in Shanghai, is $26,000.

From a telegram dated Dublin, June 20th, we learn that Archbishop McCabe's pastoral, referring to the action of Dr. Croke and other dignitaries of the Church of Rome in the recent Land League proceeding, was read on that date, in all the Catholic Churches in that city. It regrets that even in his own diocese, men are preaching a doctrine subversive of law and order.

"O wad some power the giftie gie us,
To see ousels as ither see us.
It wad frae monie a blunder free us,

Although it can matter little to anyone what we think of ourselves, the perfectly free and independent opinion of a journal not published in Hongkong may prove of some little interest to our readers. It is exceedingly gratifying to ourselves.

Another journal has been started in Hongkong, and as it will be published regularly about noon, the new paper should prove of considerable service to the community. The Hongkong Telegraph is apparently disposed to adopt a moderate tone when dealing with the vexed questions which have lately agitated the colony, and on that account alone deserves—and will no doubt receive—a considerable share of public support.—Higo News.

The Mattie Taylor Troupe gave their final entertainment at the City Hall last night to a fairly well filled house. The fire at Messrs. Kelly & Walsh's premises no doubt kept away a good many pleasure seekers who would otherwise have attended; but Mr. Taylor was ill advised to select the evening before mail day for his performance, as numbers who would have availed themselves of the opportunity of patronising this really accomplished family, were detained by business requirements at their various offices. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are thoroughly experienced performers, and their clever acting, and agreeable singing in the comic sketch, Barney's Courtship was deservedly applauded. Mattie is a clever little actress, and gives promise of possessing in time, a sweet if not very powerful voice. Her vocal attire last night were exceedingly well received, but for our own part we regretted to see a young girl, who is capable of far better things, wasting her time and talents in such stupid rubbish as "Tu, tu, good bye, an revoir"; "Get along, go away;" and other inane rubbish of the "Variety" entertainment class. Mrs. Taylor's Motto songs were well sung, and "Joe's" witticisms and banjo performances elicited many marks of warm approval. Mr. Straelen played a solo on the Zither which was encored, and after the interval, Mattie repeated her impersonation of four different characters in The Little Orphan with much success. The American Sand Jig, drum, and banjo solos introduced in this little peice were cleverly executed, and apparently gave great satisfaction to the audience, who cheered heartily. We understand that the troupe intend giving one performance in Macao on Saturday night, prior to their departure for San Francisco, which will no doubt be well attended.

Shortly after eight o'clock yesterday evening, a fire broke out in the premises occupied by Messrs. Kelly and Walsh in the Queen's-road, but from the promptitude with which it was dealt with, it was prevented from spreading beyond the narrowest limits. The precise spot in which the fire broke out was a store-room at the back of the premises, and on the opposite side of the passage and staircase leading to the offices of Messrs. Landstein & Co. above, and it was almost entirely confined to that place. It cannot as yet be said with absolute accuracy how it originated, but grave suspicions are entertained, that it was the work of some enterprising but bungling burglar. A Chubb's lock on the door was found to have been broken, a crowbar was picked up in the immediate vicinity of the fire, and the safe is missing. Neither the two representatives of Kelly and Walsh, nor any of the Chinese employees, reside on the premises, and as it was known that Mr. Levy, of Landstein & Co., who lives above, was out to dinner, these circumstances lead to the belief that the opportunity was taken to effect the robbery. Several fire engines, both Government and those of private companies, were soon on the ground, but few of them were called upon to employ their energies, as a plentiful and powerful stream of water was brought to play on the flames from a hydrant a few yards westward from the store, and in less than an hour full confidence was felt that there was no further danger to be apprehended. The amount of damage done is roughly estimated at about $1000 to the stock, and probably about $200 to the buildings, which are fully insured, we are informed in the "Royal" and "China Fire" Insurance Companies. The value of the contents of the safe is put down at another $1000. The premises above were pretty well saturated with water, and some damage was also sustained by the hasty removal of stock from Attack's furniture store adjoining, but it is fortunate that so little loss was sustained in so valuable a block of buildings as that in which the fire broke out. The police were early on the ground under Chief Inspector Horspool, and a party of 50 non-commissioned officers and men of the Inniskilling Fusiliers under Lieutenant Windram, but the services of the latter were not put in requisition.

The Northern ports of China and Japan seem to have a baneful influence on the various operatic and dramatic troupes who travel in the Far East, more than one having recently collapsed, and the members been scattered to the four winds of heaven. The Carandini Company, which arrived here yesterday, proved no exception to the general rule. When they left Japan we believe it was their intention to have gone on to India, giving one or two of their delightful concerts on passing through Hongkong. This is entirely altered and the company was all but broken up. As it is, we understand Miss Linden returns to Japan by an early opportunity, and the remaining members go on to-day by the Nelson to Cooktown; it having been decided at the last moment, that Mr. Fischer should still remain one of the party.

The prisoner who committed the assault on Mr. Tonnochy in the gaol on Monday last, was not charged before the sitting Magistrate yesterday, as was expected, but will be dealt with inside the walls of the prison, the powers invested in the hands of the gaol authorities being ample to deal with such cases. Mr. Tonnochy is under treatment by the Colonial Surgeon, and although his wound is slight he is still confined to his quarters to avoid exposure to a cold, which might produce, even in so slight an injury, very unpleasant results. We understand that the Superintendent of the gaol, takes ill with his enforced confinement, and does an occasional growl in deep stentorian tones.

The arrangement for an amalgamation of the China Tramways Company with Mr. Ryrie's proposed scheme for a high level tramway to the Gap and Aberdeen, which was announced in the China Mail of the 16th instant as having been completed, was formally repudiated by several of the influential supporters of Mr. Bulkeley Johnson's measure, at a secret conclave held the other day. A letter has been received, either by Mr. Ryrie or Mr. A. F. Smith, intimating that on account of this repudiation, the amalgamation agreed upon must be considered cancelled. As we understand that the arrangement was made between Mr. Ryrie, and the published promoters of the China Tramways Company, we are at a loss to understand on what grounds this repudiation can be maintained, and are at the same time anxious to know who the influential gentlemen are, who have counselled this extremely unbusiness-like proceeding. We have no faith whatever in either of the tramway schemes, and it now seems more probable than ever that this split in the camp will completely upset the whole arrangements. There is a rumour abroad that "the professional gentlemen" are at the bottom of this recent trouble. We give the report for what it is worth.

LATEST COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

Thursday, July 21st, 1881.
One o'clock P.M.

As usual on mail mornings, our record of exchange transactions is of a meagre and uninteresting character. Banks are rather weaker since we last wrote, a few sales for 109 cash having taken place, and there are still shares on the market at that price. We believe there were several small lots sold at 110 for the end of August, but have been unable to trace these transactions, and we should not like to guarantee that buyers could be accommodated on similar terms. We noted a few small sales of Chinese Insurance Company's stock at 300, and two or three Hongkong Fires are reported to have changed hands at $1,000 per share. Docks remain nominally at 60 per cent premium, and although no cash business has been done, a few shares have been taken up at that rate for the end of the month, and there are more on offer. Hotels are offered at 115 with no buyers, but that is a matter of little surprise, as the stock is suffering from the usual reaction after an important rise. A few Sugars at 165 have found purchasers, and there are still sellers. Other quotations remain unaltered.

The following mails may be expected:—

On Tuesday the 26th, the English mail with London dates of 17th June.

The following resolution according to the latest home papers to hand, is shortly to be moved in the House of Commons by Major-General Burrows:—"That the cost of a soldier's funeral shall not be defrayed as at present, by a first preferential charge on the sum realised by an auction of his under-clothing (the cost of which has already been deducted from his pay), or from any savings he may have in the Regimental Savings Bank; but that all soldiers shall be buried at the cost of the State."

At present it is the practice to deduct the cost of the coffins of men who die in Her Majesty's service from their hard-earned savings, even to the disposal of their personal effects, and when such is not sufficient to meet the undertaker's charges the balance has to be paid by the Captain of the company, or troop, to which the men belonged. We are therefore glad to see some action is about to be taken by a practical soldier to put an end to such a disgraceful state of affairs. Things, however, were much worse than this a few years ago. In the old days of soldiering each man on joining the head quarters of the late Honourable East India Company's Service at Warley, was mulcted the price of his coffin from the amount of his enlistment bounty; and Her Majesty's troops on arrival in India, Jamaica, and the Bermuda Islands, had the same charge made on their pay at their first monthly settlement of accounts after landing. This was taking time by the forelock with a vengeance, a grim satire on the niggardliness of Great Britain to her hardy sons, which, despite the seriousness of the subject cannot fail to raise a smile, but was most certainly ill calculated to inspire the men with any degree of confidence in their foreign service prospects; in fact, they were treated as if there was no possible hope of their ever being able to leave these stations. Nor was this all, we have even heard men make complaint on their return to England, that the cost of the coffin which they had paid for, and which fortunately they had not required, had not been refunded to them. We have no trustworthy information as to whether, when men died in front of the enemy, and received the scant but only burial the circumstances of a campaign permitted, the amount formerly charged for their coffins, but not expended, was ever credited in their pay accounts.

A still further resolution in the following terms is to be moved:—"That the customary food of a soldier shall be entirely provided by the State, and not as at present, partly by the State and partly by the soldier's daily pay."

This will prove a considerable addition to the soldier's income unless an equivalent reduction in coin is made in his pay, as on the occasion when the free ration was sanctioned. The free ration consists of 1 lb. of bread and $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. of meat per dicm, every other article, vegetables or groceries, having to be provided by the men's messes. Prior to this, $\frac{1}{2}$ d. per dicm was charged, certainly not an exorbitant price, but when the free issue was made, a reduction of nearly that amount was made in the Regimental Pay of all ranks, and, from the term "free ration," the public generally believed that the soldier received every article of food at the cost of the State.

W. P. MOORE,

Begs to inform the Gentlemen of Hongkong and Visitors that he has reduced the price of Hair-Cutting to 50 cents. Having now in his employ three competent Assistants who are always in attendance, he guarantees to execute this class of work, in all its branches, with a perfection which cannot be excelled in any part of the World.

Monthly Customers taken at reduced rates.
RAZORS MOST CAREFULLY RE-SET.

Mr. MOORE begs to recommend his GOGO SHAMPOO WASH to the public as unrivalled by any preparation ever produced for promoting the growth of the hair. The basis of this compound is made of soap root; the natives of the Philippine Islands never use anything else for washing their hair; they are never found bald, and it is quite common to see the females with hair from 5 to 6 feet long. By constantly using this Shampoo WASH as directed, you will never be bald. The proprietor offers the Wash to the public entirely confident that by its restorative properties it will without fail arrest decaying hair. It completely eradicates scurf, dandruff, and cures all diseases of the scalp. It does not contain any poisonous drugs. By its cooling properties it allays the itching and fever of the scalp, which is the great cause of people losing their hair.

Mr. MOORE has succeeded in being able to put this wash up in bottles without allowing it to ferment, and he will guarantee it to keep any length of time in any climate.
